about the author and his pet vulture

A painter, designer and inventor, William Zicker decided one day to get a pet vulture. Realizing the actual birds were wild and not able to be kept as pets, he painted one instead. This imagined pet vulture comes to life in a book about Fluffy the Vulture's day, starting with a good night's rest. From pizza to flamingos, Fluffy engages the reader's imagination, flying through a comfortably unfamiliar world... in nine languages!
